QR Codes

They come to us from Japan where they are very common. QR is short for Quick Response (they can be read quickly by a cell phone). They are used to take a piece of information from a transitory media and put it in to your cell phone.

How can I read a QR code?

If you have a smartphone, go to the app store and search for a QR code reader. You'll find several free apps. Run the app and then hold your phone's camera over a QR code to read it. Most QR codes you'll come across have a URL encoded, so chances are when you read the QR code it will take you to a web page.

Betty White is HOT! Dancing with the Stars, sitcom TV, hosting Saturday Night Live, and an active volunteer and animal activist at 90. Should we be surprised? No! You can be and accomplish what you want, at any age and she is a terrific example. She uses and lives humor. Her take on exercise, "I have a two-story house and a bad memory, so I'm up and down those stairs all the time. That's my exercise." Laughing at yourself and life in general, makes you feel good, strengthens your immune system, relieves pain, enhances memory, lowers blood pressure, and is great exercise. So take it from Betty. Make it fun, laugh, and make it Happen!!

Seniors In The Park

Mark Dorn
"Matinee Movie Man"

I love the movies. I study them, film reviews, theory, and criticism. As the "Matinee Movie Man" at Seniors in the Park, I'm appreciative to be able to share my cinematic passion. In addition to mainstream Hollywood fare we have screened intriguing foreign films, informative documentaries, historical cinema and the "classics". Seniors in the Park now offers a fantastic new movie screen, Blu Ray, popcorn and a beverage, AND it's free! I feel fortunate to share my movie madness, and am grateful when a film brings down the house, with tears, laughter or applause.
